

The Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951¹

[Act 65 of 1951]

[31st October, 1951]

An Act to provide for the development and regulation of certain industries

Be it enacted by Parliament as follows:

Statement of Objects and Reasons.—The object of this Bill is to provide the Central Government with the means of implementing their industrial policy which was announced in their Resolution No. I(3)-44(13)-48, dated 6th April, 1948, and approved by the Central Legislature. The Bill brings under Central control the development and regulation of a number of important industries, the activities of which affect the country as a whole and the development of which must be governed by economic factors of all-India import. The planning of future development on sound and balanced lines is sought to be secured by the licensing of all new undertakings by the Central Government. The Bill confers on Government, power to make rules for the registration of existing undertakings, for regulating the production and development of the industries in the Schedule and for consultation with Provincial Government on these matters. Provision has also been made for the constitution of a Central Advisory Council, prior consultation with which will be obligatory before the Central Government takes certain measures such as the revocation of a licence or taking over the control and management of any industrial concern.²

Statement of Objects and Reasons of Amendment Act 26 of 1953.—The Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951, came into force on the 8th May, 1952. In the course of the working of this Act, certain practical difficulties have come to light.

2. Some of those difficulties are:

- (a) the period allowed under Section 10 of the Act for the registration of undertakings has not been found to be adequate in actual practice, and, therefore, requires to be extended;
- (b) while powers are available in the existing Act to revoke licences in certain cases, no such powers are available for the revocation of registration where it is necessary to do so;
- (c) the provisions relating to licensing are not complete inasmuch as they do not apply to —
 - (i) industrial undertakings which, though required to be registered, are not registered within the time limited for the purpose;
 - (ii) industrial undertakings which, though not registrable at the commencement of the Act, become registrable subsequently by reason of the definitions in the act becoming applicable thereto;
 - (iii) industrial undertakings proposing to change their location;
 - (iv) industrial undertakings proposing to take up the manufacture of goods of new brands (and types) within the same scheduled industry or of goods pertaining to any other scheduled industry, without any additional plant and machinery or factory buildings;
- (d) the explanation of the term "substantial expansion" is not free from ambiguity;

1. For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of India, 1949, Pt. V, p. 156; and for Report of Select Committee, see ibid., 1950, Pt. V, pp. 103-112 and ibid., 1951, Pt. II, S. 2, pp. 709-713.

2. Gaz. of India, 1949, Part V, p. 156. The Bill was introduced as Industries (Development and Control) Bill, 1949. The First Select Committee inserted the word "Regulation" in place of "Control".

- (e) Government cannot take over the management of any industrial undertaking, even in a situation calling for emergent action, without first issuing directions to it and waiting to see whether or not they are obeyed;
- (f) the law, as it stands, does not deal in any detail with the consequences of Government taking over the management of an undertaking;
- (g) certain items in the First Schedule are not sufficiently descriptive so as to include all important sections of the industries concerned.

The object of this Bill is mainly to remove such difficulties.

3. At present, the power to control prices and distribution of various goods under this Act is confined to industrial undertakings registered or licensed under the Act. In all other cases, it is necessary to have recourse to powers derived from the Essential Supplies (Temporary Powers) Act, 1946 and the Supply and Prices of Goods Act, 1950. Both these enactments have a limited period of life. It is proposed to add a chapter taking power to control the distribution and price of goods produced in scheduled industries and of similar goods even, though they may be of imported origin.

4. Opportunity is also taken to remove a doubt which may arise by reason of the phraseology of Section 4 which says that nothing in the Act shall apply to industrial undertakings of which the capital invested does not exceed rupees one lakh. This provision is liable to be misconstrued to mean that even the declaration contained in Section 2 is inapplicable to such undertaking. It is also difficult to define "capital invested" suitably for the purpose of the Act. It is, therefore, proposed to omit Section 4, and wherever necessary, exemptions would be granted under the new Section 28 to any undertakings or scheduled industries. Incidentally, six more important industries, namely, the silk, the artificial silk, the dye stuff, the soap, the plywood and the ferromanganese industries are being added to the Schedule.

Statement of Objects and Reasons of Amendment Act 72 of 1971.—The industries included in the First Schedule to the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 are those the control of which by the Union has been considered to be expedient in the public interest. The proper development of these industries is vital to the economic development of the country. These industries not only substantially contribute to the Gross National Product of the country, but also afford gainful employment to millions of people. For diverse reasons, a number of industrial undertakings engaged in these industries have had to close down and the continuing economic operation of many others is beset with serious difficulties affecting industrial production and employment. Action has, therefore, to be taken to rehabilitate such undertakings by investment of public funds and managerial skill and put them on their feet. While provisions already exist for Government to take over sick industrial undertakings, such undertakings have got to be returned to the original owners after a period of 15 years or less. During the period of take over Government has to invest public funds in such undertakings and it must be able to do so with a measure of confidence about the continued efficient management of the undertaking at the end of the period of take over. In order to ensure that at the end of the period of take over by Government the industrial undertaking is not returned to the same hands which were responsible for its earlier misfortunes, it has been provided in the Bill that in relation to an undertaking taken over by them, Government will have the power to move for (i) the sale of the undertaking at a reserve price or higher (Government purchasing it at the reserve price, if no offer at or above the reserve price is received), action being taken simultaneously for the winding up of the company owning the industrial undertaking; or (ii) the reconstruction of the company owning the industrial undertaking with a view to giving the Government a controlling interest in it.

2. At present, Government has no power to take over the management of industrial undertakings in respect of which proceedings for liquidation are pending before a Court. It has been provided in the Bill that Government may, notwithstanding anything contained in the Companies Act, move the Court for permission to investigate into the affairs of such an undertaking and also take over its management with the permission of the Court. The Bill also provides that in relation to such an undertaking Government may, if it considers necessary, resort to the further course of action, i.e., the sale of the undertaking at the reserve price or higher or reconstruction of the company, as explained in the preceding paragraph.

3. With a view to ensuring speedy action by Government, it has been provided in the Bill that if the Government has evidence to the effect that the assets of the company owning the industrial undertaking are being frittered away or the undertaking has been closed for a period not less than three months and such closure is prejudicial to the concerned Scheduled industry and that the financial condition of the company owning the industrial undertaking and the condition of the plant and machinery installed in the undertaking is such that it is possible to restart the undertaking and such restarting is in the public interest, Government may take over its management without an investigation.

4. The smooth running of industrial undertakings taken over by the Government is also liable to be hampered by the various claims and liabilities, etc., which existed prior to the date of take over. It has been suspended for a maximum period up to 5 years, the past obligations, liabilities, etc., of the undertaking. Government may also decide to grant relief to an undertaking taken over by them from the operation of certain Acts, i.e. (i) the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, (ii) the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 and (iii) the Minimum Wages Act, 1948.

5. An Ordinance to amend the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 was promulgated by the President on the 1st November, 1971 to give effect to the above proposals.

6. The Bill seeks to replace the said Ordinance.

Statement of Objects and Reasons of Amendment Act 67 of 1973.—At the time of enacting the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951, it was provided in the Act that the owner of every industrial undertaking which existed at the commencement of the Act shall get the undertaking registered with the Central Government. Such undertakings seeking registration were required to furnish information regarding monthly installed capacity, the number of shifts, number of working days in a month, past production during the last three years, etc. The form of registration certificate issued to the undertaking which was prescribed under the rules, did not, however, contain any column for specifying the productive capacity. Accordingly, in many cases, the productive capacity of the undertaking was not specified in the registration certificates.

2. It has come to the notice of the Government that certain registered undertakings have increased their production to a much higher level than what was reported by them at the time of registration. Such increases are likely to be detrimental to the interests of the small and medium units as also likely to lead to other adverse results. If such a state of affairs is allowed to continue, the production level of such undertakings will remain indeterminate and cannot be pegged to a specified level as distinguished from the undertakings licensed after the commencement of the Act, for which the specific productive capacities are mentioned in the licence.

3. The Bill, therefore, proposes to empower the Government to call for the registration certificates from any class of undertakings for entering therein the productive capacity of the industrial undertaking and other prescribed particulars. The Bill seeks to provide that for the purpose of specifying the productive capacity, the Central Government shall take into consideration the productive or installed capacity of the industrial undertakings as specified in the application for registration, the level of production immediately before the date on which application for registration was made the level of average annual production during the three years immediately preceding the commencement of the proposed Amending Act, the level of export and such other factors as the Central Government may consider relevant.

4. It has also been provided in the Bill that failure to produce the registration certificate by any undertaking after the issue of notification in this regard by the Central Government, shall be punishable under the provisions of the Act.

5. "Linoleum, whether felt based or jute based" is an important industry and the item is required both by Government Departments and the public. As such, a scheme of regulation for this industry is necessary on the same basis as other industries covered by the First Schedule to the Act. To enable the Government to do so the Bill provides for the inclusion of the said item in the First Schedule to the Act.

Statement of Objects and Reasons of Amendment Act 4 of 1984.—One of the important policy measures adopted by the Government to improve the competitive strength of industrial undertakings in the small scale sector, is to reserve selected items for exclusive production by such undertakings. Under this policy, 872 items are presently so reserved. The Government has been making such reservations since 19th February, 1970 through the exercise of powers under Section 29-B of the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 which provides that the Central Government, having regard to the smallness of the number of workers employed or the amount invested in the industrial undertaking or to the desirability of encouraging small undertakings generally or to the stage of development of any scheduled industry, may exempt any undertaking from the operation of all or any of the provisions of the Act.

As there is no specific mention in Section 29-B of the Act about reservation of items for exclusive production by small scale undertakings, doubts have been raised about the competence of the Government to take such action. With a view to placing the matter beyond doubt, the President has promulgated the Industries (Development and Regulation) Amendment Ordinance, 1984 (No. 1 of 1984) making specific provision in the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951, empowering the Government to:

- (a) specify the requirements to be complied with by an industrial undertaking to enable it to be regarded as an ancillary or a small scale industrial undertaking;
- (b) make reservation of any article or class of articles for exclusive production by an ancillary or small scale industrial undertaking;
- (c) fix the productive capacity of large and medium scale units, already producing such reserved items on the date of reservation; and
- (d) provide for all other matters incidental thereto. The Bill seeks to replace the said Ordinance.

No financial commitment or expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India is likely to be involved if the proposed Bill is enacted.

The notifications whereby small scale or ancillary industrial undertakings were defined and the notifications whereby articles were reserved for production by small scale or ancillary industrial undertakings which are proposed to be validated by the Bill, are being laid on the Table of each House of Parliament.

Statement of Objects and Reasons of Amendment Act 27 of 2016.—The Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951, was enacted to provide for the development and regulation of certain industries. Section 2 of the said Act declares that it is expedient in the public interest that the Union should take under its control the industries specified in the First Schedule to the Act. Any industry engaged in the manufacture or production of any of the articles mentioned under each heading or sub-headings of the First Schedule to the Act would thus be under the control of the Union. The Heading 26 of the First Schedule to the Act provides for Fermentation Industries which includes Alcohol and other products of fermentation industries.

2. According to the distribution of legislative powers contained in the Seventh Schedule to the constitution, Entry 8 of List II — State List enumerates the subject matter “Intoxicating liquors, that is to say, the production, manufacture, possession, transport, purchase and sale of intoxicating liquors” and Entry 24 thereof, enumerates the subject matter “Industries subject to the provisions of Entries 7 and 52 of List I”. While Entry 7 of List I—Union List provides for the subject matter “Industries declared by Parliament by law to be necessary for the purpose of defence or for the prosecution of war”, Entry 52 thereof, provides for “Industries, the control of which by the Union is declared by Parliament by law to be expedient in the public interest”. Thus, the authority to regulate the subject matter “intoxicating liquors” appears to vest both with the Union and the States. This has resulted in prolonged litigation.

3. The Supreme Court of India, in the case of Bihar Distillery v. Union of India (AIR 1997 SC 1208), has held that in the interest of proper delineation of the spheres of the Union and the States, the line of demarcation should be drawn at the stage of clearance or removal of the rectified spirit. Where the removal or clearance is for industrial purposes (other than the manufacture of potable liquor), the levy of duties of excise and all other control shall be with the Union and where the removal or clearance is for obtaining or manufacturing potable liquors, the levy of duties of excise and all other control shall be with the States.

4. In the backdrop of the above judgment of the Supreme Court, the Law Commission of India had recommended in its 158th Report that the Heading 26 of the First Schedule to the Act be substituted as "Fermentation Industries but not including Alcohol".

5. The recommendation of the Law Commission of India was examined in depth by the Government. If the subject "Alcohol" is taken out of the First Schedule to the Act, both industrial alcohol and potable alcohol would come under the purview of the State Government which is not in consonance with the judgment of the Supreme Court. Moreover, the effect of implementation of the recommendation of the Law Commission would be that the subject "Alcohol" which covers both industrial alcohol and potable alcohol would no longer be a Central subject.

6. Therefore, it is proposed to amend the First Schedule to the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951, by substituting the Heading 26 thereof, as "26 Fermentation Industries (other than Potable Alcohol)", so that it would be in conformity with the judgment of the Supreme Court and also ensure that the industries engaged in the manufacture of alcohol meant for potable purposes shall be under the total and exclusive control of States in all respects. The Central Government would continue to be responsible for formulating policy and regulating foreign collaboration (foreign direct investment and foreign technology collaboration agreements) for all products of fermentation industries, including industrial alcohol and potable alcohol.

7. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.

CHAPTER I PRELIMINARY

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951.

(2) It extends to the whole of India³[* * *].

(3) It shall come into force on such date⁴ as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

2. Declaration as to expediency of control by the Union.—It is hereby declared that it is expedient in the public interest that the Union should take under its control the industries specified in the First Schedule.

CASE LAW ► Declaration, Nature and effect of.—To the extent of the Union acquired control by virtue of declaration in Section 2 of the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951, Act as amended from time to time, the power of the State Legislature under Entry 24 of List II to enact any legislation in respect of declared industry so as to encroach upon the field of control occupied by IDR Act would be taken away, Ishwari Khetan Sugar Mills (P) Ltd. v. State of U.P., (1980) 4 SCC 136, 144.

► Overriding effect of Handlooms (Reservation of Articles for Production) Act, 1985.—When Section 3(1) of the Handlooms (Reservation of Articles for Production) Act, 1985 says "Notwithstanding anything contained in the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951", it means it has an overriding effect. That was why the subject of handloom textile was taken out of the purview of the First Schedule of the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 and a separate Act had come to be passed, Parvej Aktar v. Union of India, (1993) 2 SCC 221.

3. The words "except the State of Jammu and Kashmir" omitted by Act 51 of 1961, S. 2.

(5) In specifying the productive capacity in any certificate of registration issued under sub-section (3), the Central Government shall take into consideration the productive or installed capacity of the industrial undertaking as specified in the application for registration made under sub-section (1), the level of production immediately before the date on which the application for registration was made under sub-section (1), the level of the highest annual production during the three years immediately preceding the introduction in Parliament of the Industries (Development and Regulation) Amendment Bill, 1973, the extent to which production during the said period was utilised for export and such other factors as the Central Government may consider relevant including the extent of under-utilisation of capacity, if any, during the relevant period due to any cause.]

11. Licensing of new industrial undertakings.—(1) No person or authority other than the Central Government, shall, after the commencement of this Act, establish any new industrial undertaking, except under and in accordance with a licence issued in that behalf by the Central Government:

Provided that a Government other than the Central Government may, with the previous permission of the Central Government, establish a new industrial undertaking.

(2) A licence or permission under sub-section (1) may contain such conditions including, in particular, conditions as to the location of the undertaking and the minimum standards in respect of size to be provided therein as the Central Government may deem fit to impose in accordance with the rules, if any, made under Section 30.

CASE LAW ► Conditions as to location of undertaking only directory.—Section 11(2) by which conditions can be imposed as to the location of the undertaking by the Central Government is only directory and it would be open to the Central Government to issue licence without giving any conditions to the Company as to the location of the undertaking. It is significant to note that the legislature in Section 11(2) has used the word 'may', Akhil Bharat Goseva Sangh (3) v. State of A.P., (2006) 4 SCC 162.

²⁰[11-A. Licence for producing or manufacturing new articles.—The owner of an industrial undertaking not being the Central Government which is registered under Section 10 or in respect of which a licence or permission has been issued under Section 11 shall not produce or manufacture any new article unless—

- (a) in the case of an industrial undertaking registered under Section 10, he has obtained a licence for producing or manufacturing such new article; and
- (b) in the case of an industrial undertaking in respect of which a licence or permission has been issued under Section 11, he has had the existing licence or permission amended in the prescribed manner.]

²¹[11-B. Power of Central Government to specify the requirements which shall be complied with by small scale industrial undertakings.—(1) The Central Government may, with a view to ascertaining which ancillary and small scale industrial undertakings need supportive measures, exemptions or other favourable treatment under this Act to enable them to maintain their viability and strength so as to be effective in—

- (a) promoting in a harmonious manner the industrial economy of the country and easing the problem of unemployment, and
- (b) securing that the ownership and control of the material resources of the community are so distributed as best to subserve the common good, specify, having regard to the factors mentioned in sub-section (2), by notified order, the requirements which shall be complied with by an industrial undertaking to enable it to be regarded, for the purposes of this Act, as an ancillary, or a small scale, industrial undertaking and different requirements may be so specified for different purposes or with respect to industrial undertakings engaged in the manufacture or production of different articles:

Provided that no industrial undertaking shall be regarded as an ancillary industrial undertaking unless it is, or is proposed to be, engaged in—

- (i) the manufacture of parts, components, sub-assemblies, toolings or intermediates; or
- (ii) rendering of services, or supplying or rendering, not more than fifty per cent of its production or its total services, as the case may be, to other units for production of other articles.

21. Ins. by Act 4 of 1984 (w.e.f. 12-1-1984).

(2) The factors referred to in sub-section (1) are the following, namely:—

- (a) the investment by the industrial undertaking in—
 - (i) plant and machinery, or
 - (ii) land, buildings, plant and machinery;
- (b) the nature of ownership of the industrial undertaking;
- (c) the smallness of the number of workers employed in the industrial undertaking;
- (d) the nature, cost and quality of the product of the industrial undertaking;
- (e) foreign exchange, if any, required for the import of any plant or machinery by the industrial undertaking; and
- (f) such other relevant factors as may be prescribed.

(3) A copy of every notified order proposed to be made under sub-section (1) shall be laid in draft before each House of Parliament, while it is in session, for a total period of thirty days which may be comprised in one session or in two or more successive sessions, and if, before the expiry of the session immediately following the session or the successive sessions aforesaid, both Houses agree in disapproving the issue of the proposed notified order or both Houses agree in making any modification in the proposed notified order, the notified order shall not be made, or, as the case may be, shall be made only in such modified form as may be agreed upon by both the Houses.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), an industrial undertaking which, according to the law for the time being in force, fell, immediately before the commencement of the Industries (Development and Regulation) Amendment Act, 1984, under the definition of an ancillary, or small scale, industrial undertaking, shall, after such commencement, continue to be regarded as an ancillary, or small scale, industrial undertaking for the purposes of this Act until the definition aforesaid is altered or superseded by any notified order made under sub-section (1).]

CASE LAW ► Income Tax — Deductions.—Each assessment year being a different assessment year, the incentive meant for small-scale industrial undertakings cannot be availed by industrial undertakings which do not continue as small-scale industrial undertaking during the relevant period, CIT v. ACE Multi Axes Systems Ltd., (2018) 2 SCC 158.

12. Revocation and amendment of licences in certain cases.—(1) If the Central Government is satisfied, either on a reference made to it in this behalf or otherwise, that any person or authority, to whom or to which a licence has been issued under Section 11, has, without reasonable cause, failed to establish or to take effective steps to establish the new industrial undertaking in respect of which the licence has been issued within the time specified therefor or within such extended time as the Central Government may think fit to grant in any case, it may revoke the licence.

(2) Subject to any rules that may be made in this behalf, the Central Government may also vary or amend any licence issued under Section 11:

Provided that no such power shall be exercised after effective steps have been taken to establish the new industrial undertaking in accordance with the licence issued in this behalf.

²³[13. Further provision for licensing of industrial undertakings in special cases.—(1) No owner of an industrial undertaking, other than the Central Government, shall—

- (a) in the case of an industrial undertaking required to be registered under Section 10, but which has not been registered within the time fixed for the purpose under that section, carry on the business of that undertaking after the expiry of such period, or
- (b) in the case of an industrial undertaking the registration in respect of which has been revoked under Section 10-A ²⁴[* * *], carry on the business of the undertaking after the revocation, or
- (c) in the case of an industrial undertaking to which the provisions of this Act did not originally apply but became applicable after the commencement of this Act for any reason, carry on the business of the undertaking after the expiry of three months from the date on which the provisions of this Act became so applicable, or
- (d) effect any substantial expansion of an industrial undertaking which has been registered ²⁵[or in respect of which a licence or permission has been issued], or
- (e) change the location of the whole or any part of an industrial undertaking which has been registered, except under, and in accordance with, a licence issued in that behalf by the Central Government, and in the case of a State Government, except under and in accordance with the previous permission of the Central Government.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 11 and of Section 12 shall apply, so far as may be, in relation to the issue of licences or permissions to any industrial undertaking referred to in this section as they apply in relation to the issue of licences or permissions to a new industrial undertaking.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, “substantial expansion” means the expansion of an existing industrial undertaking which substantially increases the productive capacity of the undertaking, or which is of such a nature as to amount virtually to a new industrial undertaking, but does not include any such expansion as is normal to the undertaking having regard to its nature and the circumstances relating to such expansion.]

15. Power to cause investigation to be made into scheduled industries or industrial undertakings.—Where the Central Government is of the opinion that

(a) in respect of any scheduled industry or industrial undertaking or undertakings—

- (i) there has been, or is likely to be, a substantial fall in the volume of production in respect of any article or class of articles relatable to that industry or manufactured or produced in the industrial undertaking or undertakings, as the case may be, for which, having regard to the economic conditions prevailing, there is no justification; or

- (iii) there has been or is likely to be a rise in the price of any article or class of articles relatable to that industry or manufactured or produced in the industrial undertaking or undertakings, as the case may be, for which there is no justification; or the Central Government may make or cause to be made a full and complete investigation into the circumstances of the case by such person or body of persons as it may appoint for the purpose.

16. Powers of Central Government on completion of investigation under Section 15.—(1) If after making or causing to be made any such investigation as is referred to in Section 15 the Central Government is satisfied that action under this section is desirable, it may issue such directions to the industrial undertaking or undertakings concerned as may be appropriate in the circumstances for all or any of the following purposes, namely—

- (a) regulating the production of any article or class of articles by the industrial undertaking or undertakings and fixing the standards of production;
- (b) requiring the industrial undertaking or undertakings to take such steps as the Central Government may consider necessary to stimulate the development of the industry to which the undertaking or undertakings relates or relate;
- (c) prohibiting the industrial undertaking or undertakings from resorting to any act or practice which might reduce its or their production, capacity or economic value;
- (d) controlling the prices, or regulating the distribution, of any article or class of articles which have been the subject-matter of investigation.

DIRECT MANAGEMENT OR CONTROL OF INDUSTRIAL UNDERTAKINGS BY CENTRAL GOVERNMENT IN CERTAIN CASES

18-A. Power of Central Government to assume management or control of an industrial undertaking in certain cases.—(1) If the Central Government is of opinion that—

- (a) an industrial undertaking to which directions have been issued in pursuance of Section 16 has failed to comply with such directions, or
- (b) an industrial undertaking in respect of which an investigation has been made under Section 15 (whether or not any directions have been issued to the undertaking in pursuance of Section 16), is being managed in a manner highly detrimental to the scheduled industry concerned or to public interest, the Central Government may, by notified order, authorise any person or body of persons to take over the management of the whole or any part of the undertaking or to exercise in respect of the whole or any part of the undertaking such functions of control as may be specified in the order.

(2) Any notified order under sub-section (1) shall have effect for such period not exceeding five years as may be specified in the order:

issue direction for such continuance for such period, not exceeding two years at a time, as may be specified in the direction, so, however, that the total period of such continuance (after the expiry of the said period of five years) does not exceed [twelve years]³³ and where any such direction is issued, a copy thereof shall be laid, as soon as may be, before both Houses of Parliament.]

Explanation.—The power to authorise a body of persons under this section to take over the management of an industrial undertaking which is a company includes also a power to appoint any individual, firm or company to be the managing agent of the industrial undertaking on such terms and conditions as the Central Government may think fit.

CASE LAW ► Natural Justice.—Once an investigation has been validly made it is sufficient to empower the Government to authorise a person to take over the management of an industrial undertaking irrespective of the nature or content of opinion on which the investigation was initiated, Keshav Mills Co. v. Union of India, (1973) 1 SCC 380.

Whether the report of an investigating body should be furnished to the person concerned or not must depend in every individual case on the merits of the case. The Court has to see whether any prejudice has been caused to the person concerned or not, Keshav Mills Co. v. Union of India, (1973) 1 SCC 380.

► Effect of issued notified order.—A notified order under Section 18-A does not have the effect of making the industrial undertaking “an establishment engaged in any industry carried on by or under the authority of any department of the Central Government” within the meaning of Section 32(iv) of the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965, Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh v. Model Mills, 1984 Supp SCC 443 : 1985 SCC (L&S) 154.

► Refusal by Government.—Where most of the machinery had been sold away, the Supreme Court refused to direct the Central Government to take over the management of the mill, Rameshwar Dass v. State of Haryana, 1987 Supp SCC 711 : 1988 SCC (L&S) 355.

³⁴[18-AA. Power to take over industrial undertaking without investigation under certain circumstances.—(1) Without prejudice to any other provision of this Act, if, from the documentary or other evidence in its possession, the Central Government is satisfied, in relation to an industrial undertaking, that—

- (a) the persons in charge of such industrial undertaking have, by reckless investments or creation of encumbrances on the assets of the industrial undertaking, or by diversion of funds, brought about a situation which is likely to affect the production of articles manufactured or produced in the industrial undertaking, and that immediate action is necessary to prevent such a situation; or
- (b) it has been closed for a period of not less than three months (whether by reason of the voluntary winding up of the company owning the industrial undertaking or for any other reason) and such closure is prejudicial to the concerned scheduled industry and that the financial condition of the company owning the industrial undertaking and the condition of the plant and machinery of such undertaking are such that it is possible to restart the undertaking and such restarting is necessary in the interests of the general public, it may, by a notified order, authorise any person or body of persons (hereafter referred to as the "authorised person") to take over the management of the whole or any part of the industrial undertaking or to exercise in respect of the whole or any part of the undertaking such functions of control as may be specified in the order.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 18-A shall, as far as may be, apply to a notified order made under sub-section (1) as they apply to a notified order made under sub-section (1) of Section 18-A.

(3) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) and sub-section (2) shall apply to an industrial undertaking owned by a company which is being wound up by or under the supervision of the Court.

(4) Where any notified order has been made under sub-section (1), the person or body of persons having, for the time being, charge of the management or control of the industrial undertaking, whether by or under the orders of any court or any contract, instrument or otherwise, shall, notwithstanding anything contained in such order, contract, instrument or other arrangement, forthwith make over the charge of management or control, as the case may be, of the industrial undertaking to the authorised person.

(5) The provisions of Sections 18-B to 18-E (both inclusive) shall, as far as may be, apply to, or in relation to, the industrial undertaking, in respect of which a notified order has been made under sub-section (1), as they apply to an industrial undertaking in relation to which a notified order has been issued under Section 18-A.]

CASE LAW ► Natural Justice.—The rule of audi alteram partem is not excluded under clause (b) of Section 18-AA(1), Ibid.

The Central Government ordered an undertaking of the State Government to take over the management of another undertaking. Held, merely because of this order the latter undertaking could not be said to belong to or to be under the control of the Central Government. Hence, the Central Government would not be the "appropriate Government" in relation to it within the meaning of Section 2(a) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, Panchulal v. Manager, Indore Textile Ltd., 1991 Lab IC 2001 (MP)(DB).

► Validity of order.—If the satisfaction of the Government in regard to the existence of any of the conditions mentioned in Section 18-AA(1)(a) is based on no evidence, or on an extraneous consideration, it will vitiate the order of 'take-over', and the court will be justified in quashing it, Swadeshi Cotton Mills v. Union of India, (1981) 1 SCC 664, 696-698.

18-B. Effect of notified order under Section 18-A.—(1) On the issue of a notified order under Section 18-A authorising the taking over of the management of an industrial undertaking,—

- (a) all persons in charge of the management, including persons holding office as managers or directors of the industrial undertaking immediately before the issue of the notified order, shall be deemed to have vacated their offices as such;

- (b) any contract of management between the industrial undertaking and any managing agent or any director thereof holding office as such immediately before the issue of the notified order shall be deemed to have been terminated;
- (c) the managing agent, if any, appointed under Section 18-A shall be deemed to have been duly appointed as the managing agent in pursuance of the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (7 of 1913)³⁵, and the memorandum and articles of association of the industrial undertaking, and the provisions of the said Act and of the memorandum and articles shall, subject to the other provisions contained in this Act, apply accordingly, but no such managing agent shall be removed from office except with the previous consent of the Central Government;
- (d) the person or body of persons authorised under Section 18-A to take over the management shall take all such steps as may be necessary to take into his or their custody or control all the property, effects and actionable claims to which the industrial undertaking is or appears to be entitled, and all the property and effects of the industrial undertaking, shall be deemed to be in the custody of the person or, as the case may be, the body of persons as from the date of the notified order; and
- (e) the persons, if any, authorised under Section 18-A to take over the management of an industrial undertaking which is a company shall be for all purposes the directors of industrial undertaking duly constituted under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (7 of 1913)³⁶, and shall alone be entitled to exercise all the powers of the directors of the industrial undertaking, whether such powers are derived from the said Act or from the memorandum or articles of association of the industrial undertaking or from any other source.

(2) Subject to the other provisions contained in this Act and to the control of the Central Government, the person or body of persons authorised to take over the management of an industrial undertaking, shall take such steps as may be necessary for the purpose of efficiently managing the business of the industrial undertaking and shall exercise such other powers and have such other duties as may be prescribed.

(3) Where any person or body of persons has been authorised to exercise any functions of control in relation to an industrial undertaking, the undertaking shall be carried on pursuant to any directions given by the authorised person in accordance with the provisions of the notified order, and any person having any functions of management in relation to the undertaking or part thereof shall comply with all such directions.

35. See now the Companies Act, 2013 (18 of 2013).

36. See now the Companies Act, 2013 (18 of 2013).

(4) The person or body of persons authorised under Section ³⁷[18-A] shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the memorandum or articles of association of the industrial undertaking, exercise his or their functions in accordance with such directions as may be given by the Central Government so, however, that he or they shall not have any power to give any other person any directions under this section inconsistent with the provisions of any Act or instrument determining the functions of the authority carrying on the undertaking except in so far as may be specially provided by the notified order.

18-C. Contracts in bad faith, etc., may be cancelled or varied.—Without prejudice to the provisions contained in Section 18-B, the person or body of persons authorised under Section 18-A to take over the management of an industrial undertaking may, with the previous approval of the Central Government, make an application to any Court having jurisdiction in this behalf for the purpose of cancelling or varying any contract or agreement entered into, at any time before the issue of the notified order under Section 18-A, between the industrial undertaking and any other person and the Court may, if satisfied after due inquiry that such contract or agreement had been entered into in bad faith and is detrimental to the interests of the industrial undertaking, make an order cancelling or varying (either unconditionally or subject to such conditions as it may think fit to impose) that contract or agreement, and the contract or agreement shall have effect accordingly.

18-D. No right to compensation for termination of office or contract.—Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, no person who ceases to hold any office by reason of the provisions contained in clause (a) of Section 18-B, or whose contract of management is terminated by reason of the provisions contained in clause (b) of that section, shall be entitled to any compensation for the loss of office or for the premature termination of his contract of management:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall affect the right of any such person to recover from the industrial undertaking moneys recoverable otherwise than by way of such compensation.

18-E. Application of Act 7 of 1913.—(1) Where the management of an industrial undertaking being a company as defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (7 of 1913)³⁸, is taken over by the Central Government, then, notwithstanding anything contained in the Act, or in the memorandum or articles of association of such undertaking,—

- (a) it shall not be lawful for the shareholders of such undertaking or any other person to nominate or appoint any person to be a director of the undertaking;
- (b) no resolution passed at any meeting of the shareholders of such undertaking shall be given effect to unless approved by the Central Government;

37. Subs. by Act 36 of 1957, S. 3 and Sch. II, for figure "18".

38. See now the Companies Act, 2013 (18 of 2013).

- (c) no proceeding for the winding up of such undertaking or for the appointment of a receiver in respect thereof shall lie in any Court except with the consent of the Central Government.

(2) Subject to the provisions contained in sub-section (1), and to the other provisions contained in this Act and subject to such other exceptions, restrictions and limitations, if any, as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify in this behalf, the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (7 of 1913)³⁹, shall continue to apply to such undertaking in the same manner as it applied thereto before the issue of the notified order under Section 18-A.

18-F. Power of Central Government to cancel notified order under Section 18-A.—If at any time it appears to the Central Government on the application of the owner of the industrial undertaking or otherwise that the purpose of the order made under Section 18-A has been fulfilled or that for any other reason it is not necessary that the order should remain in force, the Central Government may, by notified order, cancel such order and on the cancellation of any such order the management or the control, as the case may be, of the industrial undertaking shall vest in the owner of the undertaking.

⁴⁰[CHAPTER III-AA

MANAGEMENT OR CONTROL OF INDUSTRIAL UNDERTAKINGS OWNED BY COMPANIES IN LIQUIDATION

18-FA. Power of Central Government to authorise, with the permission of the High Court, persons to take over management or control of industrial undertakings.—(1) If the Central Government is of opinion that there are possibilities of running or restarting an industrial undertaking, in relation to which an investigation has been made under Section 15-A, and that such industrial undertaking should be run or restarted, as the case may be, for maintaining or increasing the production, supply or distribution of articles or class of articles relatable to the scheduled industry, needed by the general public, that Government may make an application to the High Court praying for permission to appoint any person or body of persons to take over the management of the industrial undertaking or to exercise in respect of the whole or any part of the industrial undertaking such functions of control as may be specified in the application.

(2) Where an application is made under sub-section (1), the High Court shall make an order empowering the Central Government to authorise any person or body of persons (hereinafter referred to as the 'authorised persons') to take over the management of the industrial undertaking or exercise functions of control in relation to the whole or any part of the industrial undertaking (hereinafter referred to as the 'concerned part') for a period not exceeding five years:

Provided that the High Court shall not refuse to grant such permission if it is satisfied that the company is not in a position to meet its current liabilities out of its current assets.

(6) The industrial undertaking shall be sold to the highest bidder as a running concern, only if the price offered by him therefor is not less than the reserve price.

(7) Where no offer of price is equal to, or more than, the reserve price, the industrial undertaking shall be purchased by the Central Government at the reserve price.

- (c) for prohibiting the withholding from sale of any such article or class thereof ordinarily kept for sale;
- (d) for requiring any person manufacturing, producing or holding in stock such article or class thereof to sell the whole or the part of the articles so manufactured or produced during a specified period or to sell the whole or a part of the article so held in stock to such person or class of persons and in such circumstances as may be specified in the order;
- (e) for regulating or prohibiting any class of commercial or financial transactions relating to such article or class thereof which in the opinion of the authority making the order are, or if unregulated are likely to be, detrimental to public interest;
- (f) for requiring persons engaged in the distribution and trade and commerce in any such article or class thereof to mark the articles exposed or intended for sale with the sale price or to exhibit at some easily accessible place on the premises the price-lists of articles held for sale and also to similarly exhibit on the first day of every month, at such other time as may be prescribed, a statement of the total quantities of any such articles in stock;
- (g) for collecting any information or statistics with a view to regulating or prohibiting any of the aforesaid matters; and

43. Chapters III-A and III-B ins. by Act 26 of 1953, S. 13 (w.e.f. 1-10-1953).

- (a) where the price can consistently with the controlled price, if any, be fixed by agreement, the price so agreed upon;
- (b) where no such agreement can be reached, the price calculated with reference to the controlled price, if any, fixed under this section;

Explanation.—In this section, the expression “article or class of articles” relatable to any scheduled industry includes any article or class of articles imported into India which is of the same nature or description as the article or class of articles manufactured or produced in the scheduled industry.]

CASE LAW ► Determination of price.—Capacity utilisation of manufacturing unit, the quality of its product and the maintenance of proper standards are all relevant factors for the determination of price, Premier Automobiles Ltd. v. Union of India, (1972) 4 SCC (N) 1 : AIR 1972 SC 1690.

CHAPTER IV MISCELLANEOUS

CASE LAW ► Nature and scope.—The true meaning of Section 20 is that if any action is sought to be taken under the Act, it is only the Union which can take action and no State can take any action under that Section 20 forbids executive action on the part of the State Government or a local authority to take over management or control of any industrial undertaking under any enabling law in force but does not inhibit transfer of the management to the acquiring body as a result of acquisition of an undertaking by a valid legislation, Ishwari Khetan Sugar Mills v. State of U.P., (1980) 4 SCC 136 followed in Dalmia Industries Ltd. v. State of U.P., (1994) 2 SCC 583.

The Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act, 1985, thus aims to revive and rehabilitate, not all sick companies but those in the Schedule to IDRA, presumably vital to the economy of the nation. *KSL & Industries Ltd. v.
